

To whom it may concern,
The FCC must reject the National Association of Broadcaster's petition 04-160.
As a long time satellite radio subscriber, I rely on traffic and weather channels from my satellite provider. They provide more detail, more frequently, and with higher quality than television and broadcast radio providers.

I pay good money to my satellite provider to receive these and I don't believe the NAB should use its bully pulpit to tell me what I'm allowed to receive. It's not enough that over-zealous broadcast conglomerates run off popular programming, in favor of 24-hour infomercials and yet-another-morning-zoo programs?

I moved to satellite because I wanted more choices over what I listen to and because the NAB member companies are destroying those choices. Don't let them further destroy choice by limiting what customers using another service may receive.

Respectfully,

Jeff Donnici
